LGNZ Conference Dunedin 24-26th July 2016

Danella McCormick – Manurewa Local Board

This year's conference focused on place making – creating places where people love to live, work and play. There was a strong focus on leading change and building places for tomorrow where families and businesses can prosper.

It was exciting to attend the official opening of the LGNZ conference Powhiri - our plane just landed with enough time for us to make it, held at the Dunedin Centre. Listening to Dave Cull the Mayor of Dunedin was very inspiring and it was obvious that Dunedin is a place that he is proud of. A few photos are below.

Simpson Grierson welcome cocktail reception

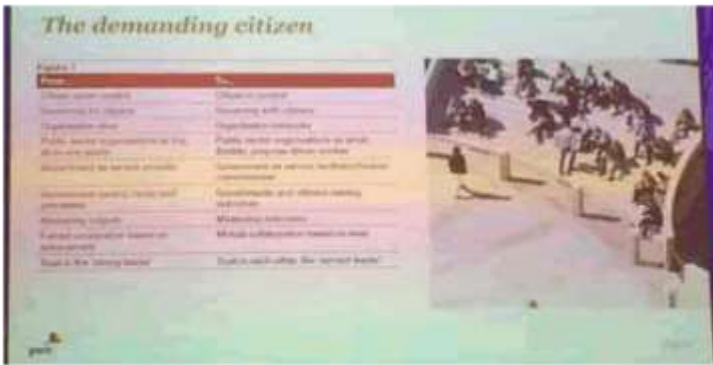

I enjoyed attending the Simpson Grierson welcome cocktail reception held at the Toitū Otago Settlers Museum on Sunday 24 July. The museum is housed in the original Edwardian galleries and Dunedin's former New Zealand Rail Road Transport building a beautiful building and an enjoyable evening.

We were transported via bus after the official opening and it was a fantastic opportunity to meet some new people from different Council organisations and partners throughout New Zealand.

Keynote programme

A full list of keynote sessions and speakers included:

- Tomorrow's places - our communities in 2050 - Greg Doone, Director at PwC

- An international perspective on "Tomorrow's places" - Troy Pickard, President of the Australian Local Government Association and Mayor of Joondalup, Perth
- Collaboration and organisation: a regional approach to place making - Paula Southgate, Vaughan Payne and Brian Hanna of Waikato region; and Dame Margaret Bazley, Damon Odey and Jim Palmer of Canterbury region
- Using incentives to strengthen economies and lift performance - Jason Krupp, Research Fellow, The New Zealand Initiative
- Engaging our communities and telling our stories - Peter Kageyama, Author and international thought leader (see more re this further down on the master class).
- Regional development: The Labour Party perspective - Andrew Little, Leader of the Opposition

- Local authority elections and the importance of women in local government

- What it takes to lead a community - Lieutenant General Tim Keating, Chief of Defence Force

- Building resilient places - Jeb Brugmann, Founder of ICLEI, Local Governments for Sustainability and Managing Partner of The Next Practice

The role of partnerships in strengthening our communities - Tā Mark Solomon, Kaiwhakahaere (Chair) of Te Rūnanga o Ngāi Tahu

Fulton Hogan conference dinner and LGNZ EXCELLENCE Awards evening

Kindly sponsored by Fulton Hogan, one of the highlights of conference is the Fulton Hogan conference dinner and LGNZ EXCELLENCE Awards evening.

Held at the Edgar Centre on the night of Monday 25 July, this formal black and white tie event provided a wonderful evening of fine cuisine, great entertainment and celebration of councils excellent performance.

Closing lunch

The final event and closing luncheon of conference was held at the Dunedin Centre on the afternoon of Tuesday 26 July, it was a wonderful opportunity to say goodbye to those who I met during the course of the conference and prepare to make my way back to Auckland.

Masterclass

Customer-centric services and innovative engagement

Peter Kageyama, Author and international thought leader.

I really enjoyed this class, I was so pleased it was the class I selected to attend prior to the conference, we received a brief taste of what was in-store for us prior to the class and I was really excited to attend.

The class itself was both motivational and factual and gave examples of some of the little things that can be done to support and gain Community engagement.

Many examples were given in this master class and I would highly recommend you taking the time to look Peter Kageyama up on the internet and watch some of his video's, I found him to be very motivating and he touched on many issues that we are faced with today in society. A few slides are below for your easy reference.

In summary

I was really pleased to attend the conference, I met many wonderful people and have established some relationships that I am confident will continue to grow.

What stood out to me the most was the messages I picked up from the master class, never be too scared to take a risk, never be too afraid to embrace change, many people struggle with change, there are ways around this for example "embracing temporary" give things a go – try and see how it works.

I would like to that the opportunity to personally thank Auckland Council and the members of the Manurewa Local Board for providing me with the opportunity to attend, I would further like to add that I found this to be very valueable, not just in the sense of building relationships with other local board members and Auckland Council employees and service providers from around NZ but for the actual insights, discussions and topics that are explored.

I would like to urge more members to attend if given the opportunity. Next year (2017) the LGNZ conference will be held in Auckland I would suggest to any member elected onto the Manurewa Local Board at the time, if you can attend – do it, you wont regret it.
