Project title	WJSS after-school programme Term 4, 2016 and Term1, 2017
Dates	10/10/2016 - 14/04/2017
Location	c/o Glen Eden Intermediate School, 23 Kaurilands Road, Titirangi, Auckland
Summary	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The children learn and build up Japanese language skills; speaking, listening, reading, and writing, to the children with Japanese heritage.2. The children learn, develop, and experience the knowledge of Japanese culture3. The children have a secure and comfortable space where they belong to and to share their background.4. The children will develop a strong sense of members of the community they live in.
Requesting grant for	Towards venue hire in term 4 2016 , venue hire in term 1, 2017, art materials, stationary, and photocopying as part of the after school programme between 10 October 2016 - 14 April 2017
Project rationale	The only programme available to children of Japanese heritage is the Japanese government-supported "Supplementary School" in the central Auckland area. Basically it is a programme for those children who will eventually go back to Japan. However, most of our children are or will be settled in New Zealand, and do not intend to return to Japan. Thus a different programme separate from the Japanese government-supported one was needed. Our programme fulfils the needs of a large number of children and their families in West Auckland and this is the only Japanese heritage programme in West Auckland.
Community benefits and how will you know you have achieved them	Not only Japanese communities but also other communities in West Auckland have benefitted from WJSS. Immigrant children share together what they have brought from their home country, Japan. Furthermore, they can maintain a strong identity of being Japanese New Zealanders. They share their backgrounds in their school environment. The school communities also learn about Japanese culture through our various events open to public. We shall know our achievements through feedback from guardians and local school communities. The parents and guardians also go out to collaborate with community groups to introduce Japanese culture.
Expertise in delivering this project	All the WJSS teachers are certified and have experience teaching in Japan and/or higher degrees teaching Japanese and Japanese culture from New Zealand.
Active participants	200	Audience size	200
Promotion of activity	Yes, We are promoting our programme on our website, Facebook pages, in brochures distributed to local schools, libraries, immigration offices, and immigrant support programmes.
Local board recognition	We plan to cite Local Board support on our website, in our school brochures, in our official letterhead documents, in email format, and in all the event programme brochures, such as our New Year's celebration, welcoming and graduation ceremonies, sports day, and performance day. We'll also make a signboard on the Japan Day annual event where thousands of people gather to celebrate Japanese culture in New Zealand. We'll also announce in our AGM and PTA meetings.

Cost	Yes. Parents and guardians pay a programme fee to hire professionals and execute the programme.
Alignment with local board priorities	Whau <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • local arts, cultures and heritage are cherished, • great local communities Many WJSS children live in the Whau community and they are future active citizens in this diverse society. WJSS educates future leaders of Japanese ethnicity. Fostering bilingual (English/Maori & Japanese) and bi-cultural (New Zealand & Japan) skills among these children will contribute to creating a vibrant local community. WJSS children learn language skills, Origami and drawing, performing Japanese theatre, Japanese traditional music, Japanese literature including Haiku poetry, and Japanese dance. Once a year they share what they have learned with the community on Performance Day.
