24 September 2015	Berm Planting	Requests a report from Auckland Transport indicating how it intends to address the matters raised in resolutions b) to i) below. a) strongly supports an encouraging and enabling approach to community use of berms as far as practicable. b) expresses concern that the draft Auckland Transport guidelines are not being approached from a placemaking perspective and are based on a restrictive and prohibitive approach rather than an enabling approach, and are at odds with established practice on Waiheke. If there is to be a licencing approach then this should apply to a small minority cases, based on exceptional circumstances, rather than	Auckland Transport

		creating a presumption against planting. c) notes that people wish to undertake berm planting, including tree planting, to enhance the amenity and biodiversity of their neighbourhood, connect with neighbours, and grow and share food and that berm planting can contribute to traffic calming, but these benefits have not been considered or provided for in the guidelines. d) notes that the adopted Waiheke Local Board Plan (p.29) includes planting of fruit trees in open spaces and road reserves as a key initiative which the Local Board is actively supporting, and that the draft guidelines would inhibit rather than enable the achievement of this outcome. e) supports the development of berm-planting guidelines, which would include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>i. safe depths to dig to where underground utilities are located</li> <li>ii. ideal plants in a number of categories – natives, food, trees</li> <li>iii. maintenance expectations, including in regard to safety, public health, rubbish and sight lines</li> <li>iv. working with adjoining owners, neighbours and community groups.</li> </ul> f) supports the role of Local Boards as the key conduit for community relationships to support and manage berm planting, for example in conjunction with community groups who plant and maintain a specific section of berm in that board's area. g) requests Auckland Transport to work with other utility operators to create maps (available online) which clearly identify which berms have services running underneath them at a shallow depth and those that do not.

		h) notes that the main body of the guidelines only applies to "private" plantings by people who wish to plant a berm that is adjacent to their existing property, and does not include reference to community groups or gardening collectives who may wish to plant on berms. The local board would wish to see the activities of the latter groups included and enabled through the guidelines, including planting on 'standard' berms. Submission made to Auckland Transport on 30 September 2015. Waiting for response and follow up by Auckland Transport.
