Event Summary

ANNUAL EVENT. No major changes.

To create an on-site attraction for the people of Auckland that links to our WWI Centenary commemoration programme

On the evenings of 22, 23, and 24 April - between the hours of 6.30pm and 10pm - Auckland Museum will project a 20 minute film on to the front facade of the Museum building.

This is a chance to view rarely seen footage from the Western Front projected onto the Museum. As well as footage from the front line, watch the first ever conscription ballot take place, follow the work of the medical corps, and even view footage of a wartime rugby game between New Zealand and France. Illuminate features material preserved and made available by Ngā Taonga Sound & Vision, and newly discovered images of New Zealanders' experience of the war in Europe from the Museum Library collection.

The film will be on constant repeat between the hours of 6.30pm and 10pm for the public gathered at the front facade of the Museum and on the Court of Honour.
