The organiser has confirmed tubes will be used to level the towers (if required) rather than cutting into the ground. The locations of the tower will be confirmed in a site visit. As per last year a camera crane for shoots from above will be in place for the event.

Set up for the filming will take place on, 24 April.

Other media will also be present on the day, but Maori TV will be the only group to have cameras on the Court of Honour area. Additional parking for media tbc.

As in previous years, the organiser would like to place white crosses in the grass area next to the ramps at the Cenotaph. The crosses will have 2 metal spikes, approximately 4mm x 100mm to hold them into the ground. These will be in place for ANZAC Day only.
