Q1 On a scale of one to five, are we on the right track with our proposed local board plan	Like anything you have to allow for a timeframe for new initiatives to take affect. Projects that have taken years to come to fruition is a positive for all. Community-led projects should always include local iwi/hapu consultation. Business community should be seen more within the community not just individuals
Q1 On a scale of one to five, are we on the right track with our proposed local board plan	Question 1

The negatives are that safety and security is compromised, upgrades get pushed aside, no consultation with local groups causes disharmony, more population, less housing means more homeless and poverty

More police walking the beat at different times of the day would be appreciated. Propoeer, secure lighting and cameras are needed if police walkers not available at all train stations

Q5 What else could we do to respond better to Maori needs and values	Kawarau a Maki are the local hapu of the area. Te Whanau o Waipareira Trust are the local organisation leading services in social, health, justice and education for all cultures. They are the ambulance at the end of the hill. Respect and listen to the korero they give because they are not saying no just a better/another way to do this! Unless it's land then I agree its NO
Q6 Do you have any further comments about our proposed local board plan	Friends of Sunhill Scenic Reserve have many shared goals with the local board. We would love to work together to achieve these
Q6 Do you have any further comments about our proposed local board plan	The only way the board can understand the issues within our community is to experience them for themselves. Ride the bus or train at different times of the day. Stand for the entire time waiting for a late bus or no bus to understand our frustration. Poor lighting, harassed by youth are many issues. Not enough seating or cover when waiting in the rain or late at night. Instigate and participate in working bees to clean up areas. Police to remove unsafe individuals,. Celebrate good business practice, more everyday heroes celebrated.
