Project: Fieldwork for (extra)ordinary folk - Public Site Performances

Location:	Exterior sites around Henderson Mall Area - Rainside Ave & Great North Rd
Summary:	Fidget Collective is a group of performing artists who are interested in dealing with the notion of society and the social being through performances in public sites. 'Fieldwork for (extra) ordinary folk' is an outdoor & Interactive performance event that brings awareness to our public spaces, social systems and social interactions. Through marking zones ('fields') and using tables and chairs, the roaming audience is invited to interact with our 'scenarios' of dance and physical theatre. Adults, teenagers and kids could be asked to direct a scene/dance, provide 'voiceovers' for the performers, choose the music or place objects in the performance space. The experience aims to bring an appreciation, awareness and care of shared spaces through playful artistic engagement.

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

Fidget Collective intends to bring the community together in public spaces to celebrate the environment through arts activation. The performance questions social ideas and behaviours in a playful way and invites audience participation. Every site performance will bring attention to the place it is performed in, its history, qualities, interest and potential as a regular 'meeting place' for the community. We hope to give the public an experience that awakens some thoughts about the public space itself and also a healthy interaction amongst the diverse people around us. We want to promote the artistic exchange as a way to learn and connect. We would like local communities to feel inspired by artistic activity as a celebration and platform for everybody.

Alignment with local board priorities:

Henderson-Massey

- fostering arts, culture and sport in the community
- events that foster community spirit

The arts promote reflection, social interaction and acceptance to diverse ideas. They are not focused on competition but rather an inclusive activity for all walks of life. Our performances question and bring awareness our social issues and environments. They also bring humour and playfulness into people's lives especially when they least expect it in a local mall. Henderson Mall is a popular shopping area. We intend to place our performance in the outdoor walkway area or arcade area. This activity will expose our objectives as a collective to not only delight but listen to the public through the interactive ideas and tasks.

Demographics

Māori outcomes:	None identified
Accessible to people with disabilities:	Yes - Most of the public spaces for the performances are already accessible to people with disabilities through ramps, flat walkways, seated areas and safe gathering places for large groups.
Target ethnic groups:	All/everyone
Promoting SmokeFree:	Healthy lifestyle is promoted through the active and physical nature of our work as performers. I think the public witnessing the event will be inspired by the ease of expression and movement along with a sharing of an artistic activity that gives meaning to our public spaces in different ways and delights people towards being better to themselves and others. The performance content can expose a smoke free message through its commentary on social spaces.

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

We have a range of programmes that develop young people providing them with training focusing on personal development, teamwork, leadership and communication skills. We use creative and action-based methods (spoken word, drama, music and poetry) to engage young people in youth development processes that improve self-confidence, resiliency and social behaviour. Although they are fun and creative programmes, there is another layer to them which effectively help young people to examine their behaviours, attitudes and thinking - all critical parts of personal development.

Alignment with local board priorities:

We use creative and action-based methods (spoken word, drama, music and poetry) to engage young people in youth development processes that improve self-confidence, resiliency and social behaviour. Although they are fun and creative programmes, there is another layer to them which effectively help young people to examine their behaviours, attitudes and thinking - all critical parts of personal development. Our programmes aim to encourage discussions, review attitudes, and provide information so that isolation is reduced, personal skills are enhanced, and a greater level of wellness is attained.

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

The community outcomes we hope to achieve are centred on Plunket's three goals: healthy tamariki; confident whānau; and connected communities. We want to make sure every child/tamariki has the opportunity to be healthy and as well as they can be. Central to this is building the knowledge and confidence of whānau and families across New Zealand. Our entire Plunket community work hard to ensure that no family/whānau is left isolated, disconnected or unable to cope.

Alignment with local board priorities:

Henderson-Massey

- fostering arts, culture and sport in the community

Pacifika Beatz has a unique approach to encouraging community interaction which is focused on music and song. This has proven to be an effective model which Plunket would love to utilise in other areas in Auckland.

develop socialisation skills and where parents can make connections in their local community.

Accessible to people with disabilities: Yes - Plunket attempts to ensure that all community groups are held in accessible venues and our groups are open to all children and their family/whanau.

Refugees as Survivors New Zealand

Legal status:	Charitable Trust	Activity focus:	Community

Project: Positive parenting support for Rwandan mothers of refugee / migrant background

Location:	MPHS Hub West
Summary:	After Rwandan Civil War many displaced and often broken families came to NZ as refugees and are now settled in Henderson-Massey. Mary Hakizimana, a community leader, has for several years on a voluntary basis convened a fortnightly gathering of Rwandan women focussing on social connection, mutual support and the retention of language and culture. (This group recently ceased because of lack of funding.) The challenge of parenting in a society which has different expectations was a recurring theme; to meet this need a series of Positive Parenting Program (Triple P) discussion groups will be offered to the women she supports. This program has a strong evidence base and has been successfully delivered to diverse refugee background communities in Auckland.
Dates:	04/02/2018 - 13/05/2018	Rain dates:	-
People delivering:	One of the RASNZ Family Service Coordinators (either Fahima Saeid or Margaret Weston) and Mary Hakizimana (interpreter and group facilitator)	People benefiting:	15 mothers are expected to participate; approximately 80 family members will benefit indirectly

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

Increased parenting confidence (parenting is a significant source of additional stress for this group of women many of whom are already dealing with the stress and trauma of their experiences during the civil war). Improved relationships within families including a reduction in reliance on coercive parenting practices.

Strengthening of connections within the participant group (the creation of social capital which can outlast the programme itself)

Alignment with local board priorities:

Henderson-Massey

- events that foster community spirit
- enhancing community and economic opportunities

The project will provide a forum for an often-isolated group of women to resume their meetings with a focus on the acquisition of positive parenting skills so that they can participate more widely in their local community with confidence. The sessions promote self-regulation – i.e. parents choose their own goals and select strategies that fit with cultural norms. We can expect that parenting styles will reflect a reduced reliance on coercive practices, and in this sense, households will be safer placed for children. The project will also be an opportunity for Mary Hakizimana to take a stronger leadership role.

Project: New Hard Drive and Screen

Location:	Adventure Specialties Trust, Henderson
Summary:	We are requesting funding to upgrade our Administration Managers computer with a new hard drive and screen. Our Administration Manager is pivotal to the smooth running of our Trust however her position does not generate an income. We try to keep our prices as low as possible to enable us to work with youth and families who would otherwise not be able to access our programmes so every cost we can cover is one more costs that do not have to be passed on. Our current computer is struggling to keep up with its required work load and is extremely slow. Our IT people have recommended this upgrade as being suitable for our requirements, faster and with more storage.
Dates:	11/12/2017 - 15/09/2017	Rain dates:	-
People delivering:	1	People benefiting:	3000

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

Adventure Specialties Trust works collaboratively with many different community groups and schools aiming to achieve our vision of “using outdoor adventure to grow great communities”. Specifically, the aim of our youth development programmes are to be a catalyst for positive changes in the participant’s lifestyle; the aim of our family programmes is to strengthen family relationships and our work with schools enables them to have a professional and safe organisation assist them in running their general outdoor education activities. By working collaboratively with community groups and schools we can offer the adventure component that they do not have the expertise or experience to deliver.

Alignment with local board priorities:

Henderson-Massey

- enhancing community and economic opportunities
- enhancing and celebrating our natural environment

We work alongside many community groups in Henderson and Massey enhancing the programmes they run by adding an outdoor adventure component. This often involves taking them into remote locations to enjoy nature through kayaking, tramping etc. Examples of our clients include a young mother’s programme with The Living and Learning Centre, Family camps with Massey Community Trust, Project K with Waitakere College and an Adventure Club with Zeal.

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

The outcome from the TLC programme is a more inspired and aware community of the impact our day to day lives have on the environment.

The key concepts taught in the TLC are:

- Our actions and choices have an effect on our environment.
- The rate and way in which we use resources (materials, energy, water) is not sustainable
- Small changes in our lifestyles will help save resources, prevent pollution and protect the environment

After the TLC session, students become the communicators and take these messages back to their families. Based on our annual behavioural surveys, students' families continue to implement simple lifestyle changes, for example recycling waste, conserving energy and water, long after the student's TLC experience.

Alignment with local board priorities:

Henderson-Massey

- enhancing and celebrating our natural environment
- events that foster community spirit

The TLC has been designed to teach and inspire students to think and act upon the environmental consequences of their everyday lives. By visiting Pomaria School, the TLC programme will be inspiring behaviour change in students by showing them why we should change our lifestyles and what is at stake - specifically supporting the Henderson-Massey Local Board priority "enhancing and celebrating our natural environment".

The TLC programme aims to foster a sense of spirit and pride towards the environment, encouraging schools to undertake actual projects after the TLC visit to achieve positive action towards the environment.

The Apprentice site displays will be easily viewed like the competitors themselves; I believe easy viewing for any person with disabilities with adequate room to move along in front of the displays. The Joy of these apprentices will be apparent in the glorious designs they construct viewed by the public and visitors alike. This competition is fascinating to watch as each apprentice reads their instructions and chooses from a very large range of product to make their task very individual both in colour and design.

Requesting grant for: FLONZI would like assistants in funding with the hire of a cool room for fresh product storage which we have permission from the NZFGS to park outside the back of the marque .This will keep the freshness of the product which we require to source from the Auckland Flower markets a day ahead. Other product will be delivered direct from growers the day prior to certain tasks and also will require cool storage .With 12 contestants designing 14 designs each we will require cooler space on site.

Project: Le Era Fou - The New Era

Location:	Zeal West Auckland, 20 Alderman Drive, Henderson, Auckland
Summary:	In June a group of mainly first-generation New Zealand-born Samoan young people, who are part of Zeal's afternoon drop-in community, came together to put on a production as part of Samoan_Language_Week. "Le Era Fou", meaning The New Era, was written by one of Zeal's YouthWork interns and combines historical events (dawn raids) with modern-day Samoa, exploring some of the issues Samoans go through as a people. Originally performed to a small audience, Zeal's goal is to bring this group of young people together once again to perform the play over two nights with the goal of helping them to connect with their Samoan culture, develop their confidence and skills as performers, and to reach and inform a much wider audience.

Community benefits

Identified community outcomes:

We are a small club of approx. 30 members (of which only 20 are full members) Croquet generally attracts older members who are often living off pensions. The game provides fellowship, physical and mental activity for members which is very beneficial for the elderly as well for those who are younger. Our annual fee of $275 for members. However this does not cover the cost of a new fence. As we play both summer and winter the fence is needed to provide shelter for our players. We have other expenses during the year and we try to supplement our income with jumble sales and raffles etc.

Alignment with local board priorities:

Henderson-Massey

- fostering arts, culture and sport in the community
- strengthen governance capacity in our community and recreational organisations

Improves the quality of our club facilities for the members. membership is open to all people.
