1 Welcome

2 Apologies

At the close of the agenda no apologies had been received.

3 Declaration of Interest

Members are reminded of the need to be vigilant to stand aside from decision making when a conflict arises between their role as a member and any private or other external interest they might have.

The Auckland Council Code of Conduct for Elected Members (the Code) requires elected members to fully acquaint themselves with, and strictly adhere to, the provisions of Auckland Council’s Conflicts of Interest Policy. The policy covers two classes of conflict of interest:

i. A financial conflict of interest, which is one where a decision or act of the local board could reasonably give rise to an expectation of financial gain or loss to an elected member; and

ii. A non-financial conflict interest, which does not have a direct personal financial component. It may arise, for example, from a personal relationship, or involvement with a non-profit organisation, or from conduct that indicates prejudice or predetermination.

The Office of the Auditor General has produced guidelines to help elected members understand the requirements of the Local Authority (Member’s Interest) Act 1968. The guidelines discuss both types of conflicts in more detail, and provide elected members with practical examples and advice around when they may (or may not) have a conflict of interest.

Copies of both the Auckland Council Code of Conduct for Elected Members and the Office of the Auditor General guidelines are available for inspection by members upon request.

Any questions relating to the Code or the guidelines may be directed to the Relationship Manager in the first instance.

KAIPĀTIKI LOCAL BOARD CHAIRPERSON’S REPORT

JOHN GILLON – 27 JUNE 2018

Kauri Dieback

Tests on the kauri tree in Chelsea Estate Heritage Park, that was suspected of having kauri dieback disease, have come back negative. However, it does have another less harmful disease called Phytophthora cinnamomi.

The track will remain closed until the Kaipātiki Local Board has agreed on a wider strategy to prevent kauri disease in the area. If this track or others need to have access restricted, or be closed as a preventative measure, we will need to consider bringing alternative kauri-free tracks up to a higher standard or look at establishing new routes.

Northcote Wharf closed

Auckland Transport has closed the Northcote Wharf until further notice due to deterioration and safety concerns. This is extremely disappointing, as the wharf is already the most-closed public transport facility in Auckland¹.

The Kaipātiki Local Board has long advocated for an all-weather facility at Northcote Wharf, and only in May this year, Deputy Chair Danielle Grant and I advocated to Auckland Transport board members for Northcote Wharf to be included in the Regional Land Transport Plan (RLTP) for funding in the next 10 years, but it has not been included.

Workshop Lunches

Since 2010, Kaipātiki Local Board members have been provided with ‘free’ catered lunches during daytime workshops that last for more than four hours. With two to three workshops a month of this length, and lunches costing around $180 to $220 per workshop, the cost to ratepayers is somewhere from $3660 to $7260 per year (11 months). This appears to be an increase on the cost for 2016, which was reported as being $3826 for the year².

So I am calling time on this unnecessary luxury, and proposing the following motion to end provided lunches from 1 July:

That the Kaipātiki Local Board request that Local Board meetings and workshops are no longer catered, as of 1 July 2018.

3) 2018-2020 Glenfield Community Centre Strategic Plan:

Strategic Planning focuses on defining an organisation’s direction through answering a series of core questions, and then taking those answers and using them to inform decisions around allocation of organisation resources to achieve a set of agreed objectives. We have taken the last two years to complete a comprehensive review of the organisation, operating environment, stakeholders and our business plan.

Strategic planning is a tool to manage the organisation as it transitions from where it is now, towards where it believes it needs to be. The process needs to make sense for all stakeholders and be aligned with the organisation’s key Vision, Core Purpose, and Values.

Ultimately, the process seeks holistic understanding by asking the big questions that might otherwise be obscured by the day-to-day operation of the organisation. It allows everyone the opportunity to reflect and move forwards together.

Our plan concentrates on delivering meaningful change through three core areas: Relationships, Internal Capacity and Capability, and Financial Viability.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PARTNERS

STEPHEN BELL, MNZM
YOUTHLINE CEO

Youthline and Action Education have a long history of collaboration. Youthline is proud to provide structural, personnel and secretariat support to Action Education, so that they can focus on unleashing potential in young people.

It takes courage to stand on a stage and show the world who you really are, and this is something the Action Education facilitators do on a regular basis.

It is a pleasure to see so many young men, particularly those from Māori and Pacific Island heritage, take up the mantle of an oral storytelling tradition through poetry. The image of a strong kiwi male who does not share his feelings has been ingrained into the cultural context of this country. Action Education flips this stereotype on its head, showing a fierceness of strength which is found in the very opposite: through expressing yourself, your emotions, thoughts and feelings. That strength is found in our vulnerability, our triumphs and our challenges, when we speak out not when we keep it within.

I applaud the strides Action Education is taking to support the development of youth work in this country through training, workshops and local capacity building. If you ever have a chance to run a training session for your teachers, youth workers or even corporate or sports teams, take it. You won’t get something as authentic, creative, action-based and customised anywhere else.
FY17 has been quite a year, a year of absolute awesome and also a year of stretch. Once again our work with young people, schools and communities has grown. We have managed to connect more people to their creativity and the opportunities to let this out, while also stretching our own comfort zones and taking our work to new places.

Action Education engaged with 23,030 individuals this year, in Auckland and beyond.

WORD – The Front Line, the inter high school spoken word poetry competition born in 2014 has once again proved to be a catalyst for more young people to step into their stories and share them courageously. Since we began the journey of WORD in 2014, more than 550 pieces of poetry have been performed publicly. This year, 32 teams from 26 high schools auditioned. We heard about feminism, Syria, love, culture, magic, identity, religion, science, nature and so much more. We laughed, we cried, and for the first time we took our 2016 champions, Marist College, to Bankstown, Sydney to compete in the inaugural Trans-Tasman youth poetry slam.

The Auckland Art Gallery have been great friends to Action Education and WORD – The Front Line, and this year we deepened our collaboration in an exciting new way.

In November we brought 600 year 9 and 10 students from three different high schools through the gallery on a facilitated tour of current exhibitions by local artists. For some, this would have been their first time in an art gallery. We then guided the young people through a writing workshop which culminated in the students sharing response pieces in the art form of spoken word poetry. This was an incredible programme that combined visual art, the spoken word, recognized artists and young people exploring their own ability to create for the first time. It was an amazing experience, and one we hope to repeat.

Outside of Auckland we had the pleasure of joining forces with the Horowhenua District Council and the Kapiti Coast Youth Council to deliver a series of community capacity building workshops within the youth sector. It was also a pleasure to team up with Richie Hardcore to deliver presentations in high schools across the Horowhenua district.

We continue to work with Whakatakakokai, a care and protection residence in South Auckland, which is humbling and challenging, but the stories and poetry we get to hear are incredibly worthwhile.

Personally, I was touched to receive a New Zealander of the Year Local Hero Award. My journey with Action Education has been rewarding and fulfilling and I am so grateful for the opportunities I’ve received to learn and grow. In this work you don’t seek recognition or reward because you get so much back every day, but the gesture was truly appreciated.
Finally, it is with a mix of emotions that we say farewell to Dietrich Soakai, who has been with Action Education for over seven years. Dietrich is a talented poet, gifted youth worker and tremendous human being. Over the years he has done incredible work with young people and in New Zealand’s creative communities. I feel privileged to call him a friend. We wish Dietrich all the best in his future endeavors and know he will remain a great friend and supporter of Action Education.

We are pleased to welcome Ken Arkind to the Action Education whanau. Ken brings a huge wealth of experience to the organization, he literally is a world leader in what he does and we are incredibly lucky to have him.

I remain incredibly inspired by the young people who I walk alongside and that we hear from every day, young people who stand in their truth no matter the obstacles that are in front of them, those who take up leadership on a regular basis, those who make mistakes but take ownership and in doing so get back up again and those who support their peers to stand up, to be heard and to be counted.

All young people need spaces and opportunities to reflect on their journey, to connect with each other and to express who they are. This is what our communities need to heal, prosper and thrive. We give many, many thanks to our wider team of collaborators, supporters and funders for helping us stretch into so much more this year as we continue to support young people to do the same. We couldn’t do what we do without you and we are truly grateful for your support!

SOUTH AUCKLAND POETS COLLECTIVE

Action Education continues to collaborate with the renowned South Auckland Poets Collective (SAPC) to enhance creativity through poetry.

Together, Action Education and SAPC use spoken word poetry as a tool for positive social change with a focus on young people.

Performance styles differ from one poet to the next which leaves audiences artistically and soulfully satisfied.

Within the collective are national and international poetry slam finalists and champions, and published authors.

This very talented team of poets and educators deliver spoken word workshops and programmes alongside Action Education in the community. They also have fundamental roles in our annual spoken word poetry competition WORD – The Front Line as supporters, facilitators, and coaches.

It has been an exciting year and it is awesome to see young people who were once participants in workshops joining the ranks of the group as official members of the Collective.
SPOKEN WORD
POETRY

In the last year, Action Education has facilitated 280 spoken word poetry workshops with nearly 6,000 students across the country. This is a massive increase in our output from last year.

We have taught these workshops in mainstream and Alternative Education schools, Marae, camps, community groups, care and protection facilities, youth justice institutions, leadership retreats and large scale organisations throughout New Zealand.

Spoken Word has become a global phenomenon and we are honoured to be able to support so many incredible young people to find their voices. The continued interest and growth of the art form in Aotearoa stands as a testament to its power and also to the networks we have built and our ability to engage the community.

Spoken Word is an incredible medium for empathy and expression. It not only boosts critical thinking, listening and literacy skills but it also works as a bridge of understanding, connecting people across cultures, generations and borders. It is an emotional compass that young people can use to navigate their world and address the issues and emotions that they may be struggling with, in a positive and reflective way. When young people are provided with a safe space and medium to present their work, they often find they are not alone in their feelings, that their experiences and fears are often shared by their peers.

One of the highlights of this year was developing a programme in collaboration with the Auckland Art Gallery. The programme focused on engaging young people through art and poetry. We were able to bring through 20 classes from Onehunga High School, Alfriston College and Manurewa High over three weeks. Including workshops at their school then taking them through the gallery and responding to the art works through poetry. This was a huge success.
BEST PRACTICE GUIDE

Over the last few years, the spoken word movement has blossomed in New Zealand. Teachers and youth workers have discovered its powerful ability to engage students and have used it as a catalyst to not only reinvigorate interest in the classroom but to also increase retention and critical thinking.

The Spoken Word Best Practice Guide was created as a free manual for teachers who wanted to make spoken word part of their educational practice. The first of its kind in New Zealand, the guide has proven to be an invaluable resource for many of the educators in our community and beyond. So when it came time to updating it to the latest edition we reached out to those teachers directly in order to create something that we are truly proud of.

Because it is such an accessible, direct and creative medium in which to present an idea, spoken word can be used not just in English or creative writing classrooms, but across a multitude of subjects including history, public speaking, drama or science.

For the latest edition we have edited our performance links, adding dozens of new performances from both international and New Zealand poets. Users of the digital guide can search for poems specific to the subject matter of their lesson plans by simply typing a word or phrase tagged onto the poem.

In addition to the performance links we have also included new historical pages, event listings, lesson plans and spoken word activities for both beginner and advanced students. We have also added more Professional Development sections including tips on how to develop a healthy spoken word culture within your school which includes advice and testimonies from both students and teachers. The guide is aligned with New Zealand English Curriculum and is a great starting point for anyone who wants to provide new platforms for youth voice, a compass to navigate the often rebellious and awkward language of the heart, a blueprint for the future of poetry in New Zealand and beyond.

“The staff at South Auckland Poets Collective and Action Education do an underrated and fantastic job enabling the students to voice themselves and their world views.

The events they organise - whether it is the competition itself or workshops - are often educational both for students and teachers. As teachers, attending those can help you build relationships with the organisations, whom are very amiable and willing to help if you have a vision for poetry in your school, but it will also help see the poetry students in a different light. You will be surprised by what you learn - pleasantly surprised.”

- Isaac Thomas, Teacher - McAuley High School
WORD - THE FRONT LINE

In FY17 Action Education hosted the third year of our annual inter-high school spoken word poetry competition ‘WORD – The Front Line’. The competition is the first and only one of its kind here in New Zealand, giving young people the space and support necessary to develop their creative abilities and speak to issues that are relevant for their generation.

Every year we see an increase in the number of schools and teams wanting to participate in WORD. In FY17 we hosted 3 regional auditions; Central and West, North, and South, in which we had an astounding 37 teams from 26 high schools come out and audition. From each region the top four teams made it into the competition. These 12 teams start their Word – The Front Line journey with slam camp at Te Puea Memorial Marae.

This is one of the greatest experiences of the whole competition as it enables participants to foster positive relationships/whanaungatanga with members of their own team and with students from schools all across Auckland. For many teams, it may also be the first time they receive support and guidance to develop their craft.

The two days include whakawhanaungatanga sessions, spoken word poetry workshops, open mic sessions, and lots of fun.

A special thank you to Domino’s Pizza who were able to provide us with free pizza for lunch on Saturday and Sunday!

After Slam Camp, we ran a series of four workshops at the Auckland Art Gallery. Each workshop had a specific focus such as individual writing, poetry performance, and group pieces.
These workshops were facilitated by Action Education, members of the South Auckland Poets Collective, and some incredible guest poets from the poetry community such as Marina Alefosio, Jahra Rager, Grace Taylor and Dominic Houey AKA ‘Tourrettes’.

The workshops were followed by two semi-finals, with six teams competing in each. The semi-finals were held at the Herald Theatre in Aotea Centre.

Each semi-final is open to the public and is a great opportunity for family and friends of participants to witness and support these young poets stepping up to their own front lines. The semi-finals saw an incredibly high calibre of poetry and some of the greatest performances in the competition to date.

The top three schools from each semi-final advanced to the Grand Slam at the Concert Chamber at the Auckland Town Hall. This year was our biggest Grand Slam yet, with more than 400 people in attendance.

With the help of crowd funding through Boosted we were able to take the winning team from Marist College to Sydney to compete in the first ever Trans-Tasman slam against the Bankstown poetry youth team. In addition, the team had their poems published in the ‘English in Aotearoa’ journal, a publication distributed to all secondary schools across Auckland, and they had their poems professionally recorded thanks to Red Bull Auckland Studios.

We send out a huge thank you to Auckland Council Regional Arts and Culture whose funding enabled WORD – The Front Line to go ahead, thank you so much for your support.

Projects as far reaching and impactful as WORD – The Front Line require a village to happen, so we also send a big thank you to Auckland Live, Auckland Art Gallery, Youthline, Domino’s, Red Bull Auckland Studios, The South Auckland Poets Collective and the wider poetry community. Thank you all so much.
STAND UP

Stand Up Poetry (SUP) is stronger than ever, exposing hundreds of audience members to the power of spoken word and expanding deeper into both the North Shore and South Auckland.

Held on the first and third Wednesdays of the month and featuring internationally acclaimed guest poets alongside local heroes and first time readers, SUP was created as an all ages alternative for young poets who may not have access to many of the central Auckland poetry venues, either because they were too young or lacked safe transport.

With the help of our friends in the South Auckland Poets Collective, we host SUPs in safe public spaces like public libraries and community centres, moving the events from place to place and bringing poetry to the people!

An exciting new initiative has been to book teams and alumni from our WORD - The Front Line high school poetry slam as our featured performers. From Aorere College, McAuley High School and even a student led event hosted at Rangitoto College, poets who may have cut their teeth on the SUP open mic are now the featured performers and organisers, introducing this medium to new generations.

We would like to offer a huge and special thank you to Auckland City Council for their ongoing support enabling this creative and supportive space to happen.

This year we hosted 25 events and reached an audience of over 1400 people.
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Action Education are often called upon to provide professional development for youth workers, teachers, artists, tutors and social workers. We can provide training on the following topics, and also put together bespoke packages based on the need of the group or organisation:

- Self-Care, Ethics and Boundaries
- Youth Development
- Group Facilitation
- Team Building
- Spoken Word Best Practice

ACTION EDUCATION INCORPORATED

Notes to the Financial Statements
For the year ended 31 March 2017

Note 1: Introduction

Reporting Entity:
Action Education Incorporated ("the Society") is an incorporated society incorporated under the Incorporated Societies Act 1908 on 29th June 1992.

The Society delivers community services including personal development, counselling, and youth development programmes.

The Society is public benefit entity and their primary objective is to provide services for community and social benefit, rather than making a financial return. Accordingly, the Society have designated themselves as a not-for-profit public benefit entities (not-for-profit PBE's) for the purpose of financial reporting.

Basis of Preparation:
The financial statements of the Society have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of its constitution and the Charities Act 2005, which require compliance with generally accepted accounting practice in New Zealand (NZ GAAP).

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance the Public Benefit Entities Accounting Standards (PBE Standards), issued by the External Reporting Board (XRB), in accordance with Tier 2 PBE Standards. They comply with PBE Standards, as appropriate for not-for-profit PBEs, and all available reduced disclosure concessions have been applied.

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis.

The financial statements are presented in New Zealand dollars, which is the Trust's functional currency, rounded to the nearest dollar.

Standards and interpretation issued and not yet adopted
There were no new PBE Standards, amendments and interpretations issued but not yet effective that have not been adopted.

Taxes
The Society is a registered charity with the Charities Services and has a charitable status with the Inland Revenue so is not liable for income tax, under the Income Tax Act 2007.

All items in the financial statements are stated exclusive of GST, except for receivables and payables, which are stated on a GST inclusive basis. Where GST is not recoverable as input tax then it is recognised as part of the related asset or expense.

The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the Inland Revenue is included as part of receivables or payables in the Statement of Financial Position.

The net GST paid to, or received from the Inland Revenue, including the GST relating to investing and financing activities, is classified as an operating cash flow in the Statement of Cash Flows.

2 Revenue

Revenue from exchange transactions are measured at the fair value of consideration received or receivable.

a) Contracts: Revenue from contracts is recognised as the services are provided by reference to the stage of completion. Where the contract outcome cannot be measured reliably, revenue is recognised only to the extent that the expenses incurred are recoverable.

b) Interest & dividends: Interest income is accrued and dividends or similar distributions shall be recognised when the Society’s right to receive payment is established.

c) Non-exchange revenue: Cash donations, grants, fundraising and sponsorships are classified as non-exchange transactions. Revenue from these transactions is recognised in full on receipt. In some cases non-exchange transactions contain a condition that will result in the repayment of the amount if these conditions are not met. In this case the Society recognises a liability for deferred income (Revenue in Advance) and revenue is recognised only once the Society has satisfied these conditions.

3 Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment is measured at cost less accumulated depreciation. Cost includes items directly attributable to the acquisition as an asset, have future economic benefits and the cost or fair value of the item can be measured reliably. Where an asset is acquired at no cost, or for a nominal cost, it is recognised at fair value as at the date of acquisition.

Depreciation is charged on a straight-line basis over the useful life of the asset. Depreciation is charged at rates calculated to allocate the cost or valuation of the asset less any estimated residual value over its remaining useful life. The useful lives of major classes of assets have been estimated as follows:

9 Financial risk management
The Society has classified its financial assets & liabilities below as loans and receivables on initial Financial assets include: cash and short-term deposits; trade and other receivables;
Financial liabilities include trade and other payables and short term provisions.

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. After initial measurement, financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less impairment. Losses arising from impairment are recognised in the surplus or deficit. A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled, or expires.

At each balance date the Society assesses whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or liability is impaired. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the recoverable amount or recoverable service amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in surplus or deficit in those expense categories consistent with the nature of the impaired asset. Any previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset’s recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. Any reversal is recognised in surplus or deficit.

10 Related parties and key management personnel
There have been no impairments of related party balances during the year (2016: nil) and there have been no write offs of related party balances during the year (2016: nil). Related party transactions of a material nature that were incurred during the financial year were:
