Religious and Memorial Practices

Help keep our coasts clean and safe.
Tiakina te takutai moana, kia pai ai tona mauri.

The Manukau Harbour is an important part of Auckland’s natural environment. It is home to treasured native plants, birds, animals and fish (taonga). We need to work together to keep our harbour safe and clean for everyone to enjoy.

Materials like plastic, string, paper and ash pollute our harbour and can hurt plants and animals.

When participating in rituals in the park, please think of our environment:
- Only place small amounts of flowers or leaves in the water
- Remove paper, plastic, cloth or string and place in rubbish bin
- Take idols home with you
- Use clay idols for offerings into the water
- Do not pour or scatter ashes in the water. This is treasured waterway to Maori and depositing of human remains can cause offence.

Let’s work together to keep our coast clean!
