

[Memorial Bench for the Sewol Ferry Tragedy]

“We still remember the 304 victims from the Sewol Ferry Tragedy”

Since the tragedy on 16th April in 2014, the families of the victims, survivors, and supporters have been making tireless efforts to ensure a transparent investigation, for building more rigorous safety legislation and to realise victim-centred justice.

What they are so desperately asking for is just one thing.

“Please remember our children”

They hope that we remember their daughters, sons, mothers, and fathers - the victims of the Sewol Ferry Tragedy. They earnestly desire that the deaths of their family members can be the starting point for the social change, rather than just a terrible tragedy.

With the recent fourth anniversary of the tragedy on 16th April 2018, the Korean community in New Zealand wish to donate a memorial bench to a local park (preferably Sylvan Park) on the North Shore, where the majority of the Korean community are based.

Please stand with us by saying that “I remember 304 victims from the Sewol Ferry Tragedy”.

Your signature will be forwarded to the Auckland Council with the memorial bench application.

Thank you.
